

■ Daniel Fernández

President and CEO Siemens Colombia and Siemens Austral-Andina

Daniel Fernández, a graduate of the Faculty of Engineering, Friedrich Alexander University in Erlangen (Germany), has worked in numerous management positions and in various countries for more than 23 years.

After joining Siemens in 1988 he ran the nuclear power plant instrumentation and control service business in Spain and Hungary out of Offenbach, Germany.

1996 he moved to Madrid till end of 2000 to manage for Siemens power generation and power T&D automation as well as electrical systems for power plants business in Spain.

In 2001 he moved to Mexico and was appointed Group President of Power Generation business. Later he joined the Siemens Mesoamerica Managing Board and additionally managed the Siemens' Oil and Gas business in the Region. Additionally, from 2003 to 2005 he was Vice President of the Mexican Energy Association.

From 2006 to 2010 he was in charge of Siemens AG, Corporate Development & Strategies for the Americas, based in Munich, Germany.

Since July 2010 Mr. Fernández is President and CEO of Siemens Colombia and Siemens Austral-Andina, comprising all countries of South America, without Brazil.

He is member of the steering committee of the Lateinamerika Verein based in Hamburg.

Siemens S.A.
Carrera 65 No. 11 - 83
Bogotá, Cundinamarca
Colombia
Tel.: ++ (57) 1 425 3005
Fax: ++ (57) 1 420 2958