

Fernando Bolaños Valle

Chief Executive Officer – AgroAmerica

Fernando has helped build one of the leading diversified agricultural and food companies in Latin America with interests in Tropical Fruits, Vegetable Oil, Vegetable Protein, Transportation, Logistics and Renewable Energy. The company also holds strategic partnerships and investment in the movie exhibition and restaurant business in the region (Cinépolis, Pizza Hut, Starbucks, KFC). AgroAmerica has operations in Guatemala, United States, Continental Europe, Mexico, Ecuador, Peru, Costa Rica, El Salvador and Panama.

Other Activities

Mr. Bolaños was a professor of Business Strategy for two of the leading universities in Guatemala. He was president of “Cámara de la Libre Empresa” (Free Enterprise Chamber), Member of the Board of Directors and Treasurer of the Guatemalan American Chamber of Commerce, Chapter Chairman of the Young Presidents’ Organization (Guatemala Chapter) and Member of the Board of Fundesa (Fundación Para El Desarrollo de Guatemala). He has held numerous board positions in non-profit organizations throughout the region. He is Member of the Board of EcoLogic (Cambridge, Massachusetts), Fundación Bolar, Orfanato Valle de Los Angeles and other non-profit organizations. Executive President of his Family Foundation “Fundación Jose Fernando Bolanos” leading the Implementation of the “Better Families Program” and Human Development Center in 19 communities throughout Guatemala benefiting more than 50,000 people thus far (particularly woman and children).

Education

MBA	Southern Methodist University	1991
BA	Economics, Universidad Francisco Marroquín	1989