Stefanie Prehm

Stefanie Prehm studied law at the Ruhr University Bochum (Germany) from 1990 to 1995 and then completed her legal training at the Regional Court of Essen (Germany). In 1998, she started working for a renowned Bochum-based law firm that specialised in employment and labour law before joining the Dusseldorf office of Luther's predecessor firm in 1999. In 2001, Stefanie Prehm completed a secondment at Garrigues Abogados in Madrid, Spain, following which she moved to Luther's Cologne office. She is Head of Luther's Spanish Desk.

Areas of Practice

Stefanie Prehm focusses on providing employment-related restructuring advice and on advising in other areas of collective employment law (e.g. company-specific collective bargaining agreements). Over the last years, she advised clients on labour law aspects of the digital transformation. She is the author of various professional publications and a permanent consultant in diverse organisations.
