

„Hydrogen - where are we?“

Online-Event

3. Dezember 2020, 16:00 pm CET, 60 minutes

Hydrogen is currently regarded as the most promising solution on our way to further decarbonization of industry. The idea is not new. What has changed, however, compared to earlier efforts to get production and technology off the ground, are the framework conditions: There are clear commitments on both the political and the business side. Germany announced its hydrogen strategy in summer 2020. For the EU hydrogen is a key element of its Green Deal. And also in Latin America countries like Chile are in the process of creating concrete structures and framework conditions for the production of green hydrogen. With its high share of "renewables", some existing projects and the plan to become the world's largest producer of green hydrogen by 2030, the Andean country is playing a pioneering role in the region. But where do we stand exactly in the development of (green) hydrogen? Also, the question of the state of the art of the technology arises in addition to production. Which hydrogen projects are already in operation? What are the experiences? When will the hydrogen-fueled vehicles dominate the roads in Germany/Europe? And what does this development look like in Chile/Latin America?

The event is a cooperation of the Lateinamerika Verein e.V. (LAV) and the Agency for Economy & Development (AWE) and will take place on December 3, 2020 at 16:00 pm CET, (60 minutes) in English.

The event is free of charge, but please register here: <https://www.lateinamerikaverrein.de/de/aktuelles/registration-hydrogen-where-are-we/>

PROGRAM

- Welcome: Orlando Baquero, General Manager, Lateinamerika Verein e.V. (LAV)
- Moderation:
Michael Pollmann, State Secretary in the Authority for Environment, Climate, Energy and Agriculture of the Free and Hanseatic City of Hamburg
- Participants:
Max Correa, Head of Fuel and New Energy Division,
Ministry of Energy, Republic of Chile

Joachim Nettelbeck, Managing Director Proman Germany, Düsseldorf
- Questions & Answers

You will find this event and more always up-to-date on our LAV website:

<https://www.lateinamerikaverrein.de/de/aktuelles/termine/>